Directions for questions 21 to 25: Select the correct alternative from the given choices.

- 21. If statistics are anything the go by, women far out-number men on the rolls of rural BPOs. Most companies admit that women bring stability to the work environment, which, in turn, helps curb attrition. Many homemakers also form a large untapped but cost effective talent pool. By employing rural women, companies are also playing a role in empowering them. It also helps them cut cost of operations and attrition, besides curbing migration to over crowded cities. Which of the following, though true, is not a reason why BPOs, find employing women to be in their own interest?
- (a) Women score over men in terms of their open mindedness and attitude, willingness to learn.
(b) Attrition rate among women is low at 5% as they are family oriented and tend to be with the family.
(c) Unlike men, they do not consider the BPOs as training ground for better jobs.
(d) Most of the rural BPOs work 9 to 5, a convenient time for women.

- 22. A school wrote the following letter to a job applicant:
Thank you for your application. Unfortunately, we are unable to offer you a position in our institution. As you know, funding for schools is limited, and it is not possible for us to offer jobs to all those who want them. Consequently, we are forced to reject many highly qualified applicants. Which of the following can be inferred from the letter?
- (a) The vacancies in the school were fewer than the number of applicants.
(b) The applicant who received the letter was considered highly qualified.
(c) The funding the school receives is inadequate to meet its needs.
(d) The application of the person who received the letter was considered carefully before being rejected.
- 23. In many accidents, the driver of the bus or the lorry involved deserts the vehicle and absconds. The fact that they run away clearly shows that they are guilty of having caused the accident. Which of the following weakens the above argument the most?
- (a) The fact that the vehicle is over crowded or overloaded and the driver's lateral view blocked is seldom considered.

- (b) The drivers do not have faith in the judicial principle that one is innocent until proved guilty.
(c) The owners of such vehicles abandon erring drivers even when they have served for long.
(d) When an accident arouses people's feelings, they vent their ire on the driver even before ascertaining the cause of the accident.

.Note: questions 24 and 25 are based on the following information.

The earth's resources are being depleted at an alarming rate. If all the people in the world followed the lifestyle and consumption pattern of the people in the US, we would need 7 earths to meet their resource requirement.

- 24. The argument above assumes that:
- (a) New resource deposits are constantly being discovered.
(b) The per capita resource consumption by the United States is the highest in the world.
(c) The United States consumes one third of all resources used in the world.
(d) The United States uses resources wastefully.
- 25. It can be inferred from the above that:
- (a) Curbing US resource consumption will significantly retard world resource depletion.
(b) All the people in the world will not follow the US consumption pattern.
(c) The US uses more resources than any other country.
(d) Per capita resource consumption in the US is at an all time high.

27. A. The reference in the Union Budget to new elimination targets for some major communicable diseases barely hints at the enormous burden carried by millions in India with tuberculosis, kala-azar, filariasis, leprosy and measles.

B. It would appear incongruous that an emerging economy with no timetable for universal health coverage and a lack of political will to loosen its purse strings for higher government expenditure has set ambitious deadlines to rid itself of deadly scourges.

C. The promise of a well-funded five-year scheme to meet the TB challenge beginning in 2017 is welcome, although steady progress towards the new elimination deadline of 2025 will also depend on improved capabilities in the health system to meet the daily drugs requirement and a feeling of ownership at the State level.

D. If good medical protocol is pursued, pockets of filariasis in many States can be removed.

E. Having set concrete goals, the Centre must now demonstrate its seriousness by moving away from the flawed policies of the past.
